British Designers at Première Vision Designs

British design studios, colleges and publications are a true creative force to be reckoned with, providing highly original creativity and forward-thinking trends. They are by far the largest country group within Première Vision Designs with precisely 93 of the 248 exhibitors being British. On display are innovative collections of prints for fashion, home and packaging, woven and knitted designs, plus embroidery and embellishments, all showcasing the latest colours, finishes and details.

This is home-grown talent we are proud to promote.

TexSelect

Textile Design Futures

TEXSELECT, previously known as TEXPRINT, is a celebration of British educated textile design talent of any nationality and the industry's opportunity to meet the textile design stars of the future. Each year, 24 of the best designers graduating from UK universities are selected through a unique and rigorous process. TEXSELECT has been a not-for-profit organisation for nearly 50 years, having originated as a government initiative under the Design Council. It attracted sponsorship and endorsement from respected national and international brands that are committed to nurturing young textile designers, and TEXSELECT is extremely grateful for their invaluable support over the years. This is the final year of the programme in its current form, but the principle of encouraging talented textile design graduates will be carried on by Première Vision from 2020.
