Level 5 Diploma in Bespoke Tailoring

An Alternative to the Traditional Apprenticeship

Developed by the Savile Row Association, the Level 5 Diploma enables students to acquire the highest standards in UK tailoring training without the need to find employment in one of the established tailoring houses in the British capital.

The UK Fashion and Textiles Association (UKFT):

“The Ofqual-regulated qualification ensures that specialist skills can be accessed through Higher Education (HE) delivery.”

Two Qualifications

Bespoke Cutter AND Tailor

A Holistic Approach

Traditionally, apprentices receive training in only one area of the craft: they must choose between different pathways and become trouser/coat makers, or cutters.

At the Tailoring Academy, we adopt a more holistic approach and deliver the ENTIRE bespoke skill set to all students: graduates leave the course with TWO acknowledged qualifications, as fully rounded crafts- and businesspeople.

Case Study

A Career at the Opera

John joined our first cohort as a fashion design graduate from NCAD in Dublin. He was looking for solid traditional tailoring and pattern construction skills - areas BA fashion design courses do not typically offer.

He knew that adding this specialist expertise to his existing skill set would enable him to follow a more ambitious career path than the fashion degree alone would have afforded him.

John made full use of this opportunity, and following his graduation, he accepted the offer of a tailoring position within the men's costume department at the prestigious Glyndebourne Festival Opera.
